

DAVID K. GORDON

David Gordon is a senior attorney with Riverkeeper, Inc., a regional environmental enforcement group which protects the Hudson River and the 2,000 square mile watershed for the New York City reservoir system. Mr. Gordon has served with Riverkeeper since 1990, and currently concentrates on protecting the Hudson River from industrial impacts, and restoring its ecosystem. As Reservoirkeeper, he helped negotiate the landmark $1.4 billion 1997 agreement to protect the NYC watershed with federal, state, city and upstate municipal officials. He is also a member of the Town of Lloyd Planning Board and past Vice President of the Hudson Valley Rail Trail Association.

Mr. Gordon is a 1986 graduate of the University of Wisconsin Law School, and holds a Masters of Law (LL.M.) in environmental law from Pace University Law School. He has a B.S. in economics from Binghamton University.
